

Title: 333 Club Ambassador*Bio:

Edward Kayal is the 333 Club Ambassador with ZenAcademy, in charge of overseeing community engagements, leading public conversations, and generally acting as one of the faces of ZenAcademy. This often manifests as public Twitter Spaces conversations that reach thousands of listeners every week. Prior to his current position with ZenAcademy, Mr. Kayal graduated from New York University with a degree in Politics, and is also now pursuing a Law degree at Rutgers University. While he is still in the process of developing and building out his career to-date, he has established himself as a speaker and conversation host well versed in topics concerning new and upcoming technologies - namely in the realms of cryptocurrencies, non-fungible tokens, and artificial intelligence. Mr. Kayal has over 5000+ hours of discussion experience on the concepts and specific pain points involved with many emerging technologies, and is best known for facilitating discussions among other high level orators and minds.