

Mini Bio

She worked at Petrobras in various executive positions. She was Undersecretary of Oil, Gas and Energy of the State of Rio de Janeiro and Director of the Brazilian Institute of Petroleum and Gas.

Today she is a board member for companies in the oil and gas sector, and president of the Luisa Pinho Sartori Institute, an institution dedicated to the conservation of biodiversity. In addition, she is dedicated to the cause of diversity, inclusion and equity for gender and race in corporations. She is Co Chair of the Women Corporate Directors Brazil, and board member at the Brazilian Institute of Corporate Governance. Recently she was appointed to participate in the Council for Economic, Social and Sustainability Development of the Brazilian Government.